Project Title: Congenital Anomalies and Chronic Health Conditions among Childhood Cancer Survivors.

Planned research population (eligibility criteria):
1. Childhood cancer survivors in the CCSS cohort with pre-existing, self-reported congenital anomalies or conditions.
2. Childhood cancer survivors in the CCSS cohort without pre-existing, self-reported congenital anomalies or conditions.

Proposed specific aims:
Specific Aim 1. Determine whether childhood cancer survivors with congenital conditions have a higher risk of chronic health conditions compared to survivors without anomalies using the Childhood Cancer Survivor Study.

Sub-aim 1.1. We will evaluate effect modification of the relationship between congenital conditions and chronic health conditions by reported anomaly type, cancer type, and specific chronic condition as sample size allows.

Specific Aim 2. Determine whether childhood cancer survivors with congenital conditions have a higher risk of secondary malignant neoplasms compared to survivors without anomalies using the Childhood Cancer Survivor Study.
Sub-aim 2.1. We will evaluate effect modification of the relationship between congenital conditions and secondary malignant neoplasms by reported anomaly type, cancer type, and cancer treatment type as sample size allows.

Section: Other General Comments

Other General Comments:
I plan to apply for the Career Development Award using the proposed aims. Dr. Philip Lupo at Baylor College of Medicine has agreed to serve as my mentor. From a previous AOI by Dr. Jacola, there are 554 survivors who endorsed genetic conditions on the baseline survey. A total of 1933 preexisting congenital medical conditions were endorsed on the baseline surveys.

I agree to share this information with St. Jude: Yes
